

THE PORTSMOUTH HERALD.

VOL. XVII, NO. 5206

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., MONDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1901.

PRICE 2 CENTS

To Gain "INDEPENDENCE" you must have "GOLD COIN."

SECURE BOTH BY BUYING STOCK IN

THE COPPER ROCK GOLD MINING & MILLING CO

Now selling at 20 cents per share our value $1.00 and NON ASSESSABLE. The price will shortly be ADVANCED to 30 CENTS per share. The property is located 29 miles Northwest of Denver on the COLORADO RAILROAD, WESTERN R. R., comprising sixty (60) acres in a well-established and paying mineral nest. HARRIS & CO. own the property having the cheapest and best transportation. HARRIS & CO. are the only ones engaged in mining and milling purposes. This is ENOUGH for the Min. or many years to come.

Shanty is now 250 feet deep, an is being sunk to 500 feet level as fast as possible and has been in the Ore nearly the entire distance. The Ditch is already run have open up good veins of both Gold and Tin. Ore, running in values from $4.25 to $18.00 per ton in Gold, Silver and Copper.

Several of the stockholders, who were induced to buy, took by the Officers of the Company recently visited the property and have given a strong endorsement of the same and all representations as made to them concerning the Enterprise.

Send in your order now before stock advances, as right to raise prices without notice is reserved.

GEO. F. HATHWAY,

WRITE FOR BOOKLET.

153 Milk Street, Boston

CHEESE, TEA, ECCS, COFFEE.

NO BETTER BUTTER,
OR CHOICER CHEESE
COMPARE OUR COFFEE
AND TRUSTY TEAS

With others and we know what your verdict will be. Hard to beat goods at easy prices. We want lots of your good will, little of your money.

STAR BRAND.

OUR SPECIAL VERNON CREAMERY BUTTER
26 Cents a Pound.

AMES' BUTTER AND TEA STORE,

35 CONGRESS ST., PORTSMOUTH.

Other stores:—Boston, Fitchburg, Quincy, Everett, Leominster, Attleboro, Gloucester, Clinton, Nashua, Newburyport, Woburn, Dover.

Never before was so large and varied a stock of Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats shown in this market as is now displayed on our tables for this fall season.

The great range of prices ($2.50 to $8.50) for Boys' Suits and $6.50 to $20.00 for Men's Suits and Overcoats offers a choice for all purposes.

FALL UNDERWEAR, NECKWEAR, HOSIERY
AND SHIRTS IN BIG ASSORTMENT.

Henry Peyser & Son.

Smokeless Powder,
Loaded Shells,
Guns and Rifles.

A. P. WENDELL & CO.,
2 MARKET SQUARE.

HERALD ADS GIVE BEST RESULTS

Try One And Be Convinced.

TERRIBLE SUNDAY TRAGEDY

Charles S. Grace of Kittery Point Shoots Himself.

Placed The Muzzle Of A Revolver To His Breast And Fired.

He Was 'osane At The Time And Leaves A Wife And Even Small Children.

The people of the town of Kittery were again terribly shocked on Sunday afternoon to learn of the suicide of Charles S. Grace, a well known and most highly respected citizen of Kittery Point. The awful deed of self destruction occurred at his home at about one o'clock in the afternoon. He placed the muzzle of a 38 calibre revolver at his heart and discharged but one chamber. Death took place a few seconds after. Mr. Grace had been suffering from insanity for six months. He was a brother of the late Fred D. Grace, the Portsmouth sash and blind dealer, who recently died at the Maine hospital for the insane at Augusta.

For the past three months the unfortunate man had been in a very serious condition mentally, and his family had become despaired of much improvement. The death of his brother was a great shock to him, and after that he gradually failed in health.

His physical condition was not bad and he was able to be up and about the house most of the time, but he was very despondent and seemed to realize that the conditions were against his recovery. Recently he has taken of little else but his poor health. He suffered badly mentally because he was not able to provide for his family, as he had always done faithfully and well.

He was able to get up and dress Sunday morning and had breakfast with his family. His wife spoke to him of the beautiful weather, but he replied, "Yes, but it is not a good day for me."

Several of the members of the family were dressing for church and Sunday school and Mr. Grace had gone to his room. But little attention had been paid to the suggestive words he had said in the morning, because he had so often expressed his discouragement in his references to his mental weakness.

His family heard what was supposed to be a crash in the bedroom, and one of the children, a little boy, was sent upstairs to see what was the trouble. The child found the room full of smoke and his father gasping on the floor. Mr. Grace had taken a bath, shaved, dressed himself in a shirt, drawers and stockings, and had placed the muzzle of the pistol close to his breast and pulled the trigger. The ball had entered very near the nipple and must have penetrated the heart.

His clothing was on fire and the revolver was found smoking on the edge of the bed. The horrified child rubbed out the fire and placed a pillow under his father's head, and then ran down stairs to tell his mother of the terrible deed.

The family was entirely frantic from the shock. They informed some neighbors of what had happened, and the neighbors sent for Dr. E. E. Shapleigh at Kittery. When the physician arrived death was pronounced to have taken place very soon after the shot had been fired.

But very little blood had come from the wound and the hemorrhage that had resulted was internal. The terrible tragedy cast a gloom over the

ANOTHER SLAUGHTER NARROWLY AVOIDED.

Manila, Oct. 20.—Owing to the vigilance of Lieut. T. M. Bains of the Ninth Infantry, another slaughter of American troops by insurgents has been averted. Lieut. Bains discovered a prisoner returning to his cell on the island of Samar, through a hole which had been made in the wall. Investigation showed that a plan had been mapped out to fill the jail with bold men, to call out the guards and then to attack the garrison. The two instigators, one of whom is the president, have been arrested. Other attempts to massacre have been made in other parts of the island.

REAR ADMIRAL BOWLES' REPORT

Washington, Oct. 20.—The annual report of Rear Admiral Bowles, chief of the bureau of construction and repair of the navy, calls attention to the slow progress being made on the ships now building, owing to strikes and delays in the delivery of armor. The construction bureau, he says, has made considerable progress towards the standardization of fitting ships, which will reduce the cost and decrease the expense of their maintenance. He recommends an increase in naval constructors. He says that the efficiency of navy yard plants throughout the country was impaired by an insufficient number of dry docks and modern facilities.

MARQUIS ITO IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Marquis Ito, the Japanese statesman, arrived here today, and was entertained tonight at the legation.

$10,000 WORTH OF ANTIQUES GONE.

Nashua, Oct. 20.—The furniture in the New Hampshire room in the state fair building at the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, which was burned Saturday night, belonged to General William E. Spaulding of this city and was valued at $10,000. It was nearly all composed of antiques, and General Spaulding says it cannot be replaced.

MADE NEW WORLD'S RECORD.

New York, Oct. 20.—John Flanigan, champion hammer thrower, made a new world's record today with the fifty-six pound weight, by throwing it 36 feet, 9 1/2 inches.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Forecast for New England: Fair Monday and Tuesday, light variable winds.

AT THE NAVY YARD.

The Yankton will be ready for sea on about Nov. 10th.

Friday will be pay day for mechanics and laborers.

Some new electric cranes are certainly needed at this station.

The Marietta will probably come out of dry dock on Wednesday.

The blasting required on the new dry dock is now done at the noon hour.

Daniel Casey of the yards and docks crew has returned after a leave of ten days.

About ten wood workers were discharged in the construction department on Saturday.

A temporary telephone has been put in the old wooden dock for service in connection with the ships that are now being docked for repairs.

Working hours for mechanics and laborers, commencing today, will be from 7:30 a. m. to 12:00 m. and from 12:45 to 4:15 p. m.

A gang of men for the equipment, construction and repair and steam engineering departments worked on Sunday on the Marietta.

AN IDEAL EXCURSION TO FAMOUS OLD BOSTON.

Boston is an ideal place for an excursion. Enjoyment of all kinds, beautiful theatres, magnificent parks, and interesting landmarks, besides the fun and amusement to be had at the Boston Food Fair, which is now being held at Mechanics building.

On Thursday, Oct. 31, the Boston & Maine railroad will run an excursion from York Beach and stations on York Harbor and Beach railroad to Boston at reduced rates.

How Are Your Kidneys?

Dr. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a general kidney tonic. Same price free. Add. Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or N. Y.

MOORE - GOULD WEDDING.

Happy vest Celebrated at the M. E. Parsonage Kittery.

Is Br e a Portsm u Young Lad Most Favorably Known

he Groom a Navy Yard Employee and Popular Young Man.

MUSIC HALL.

W. Hartford Manager.

Today Evening, Oct 21st

A Runaway Match

By Mark E. Swan, Author of "Whose Baby Are You," "Brown's in Town," Etc.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF M. W. HANLEY & SON.

SPARKLING COMEDY.

THE HIT OF THE SEASON.

THE JOLLIEST KIND OF JOLLITY.
A COMPANY OF COMEDIANS.

THE ESTRELL QUARTETTE.

Prices - - - 75c, 50c, 35c.

Seats on sale at Music Hall Box Office, Friday morning, Oct. 21st.

Wednesday Evening, Oct. 23d

LIEBLER & CO.'S

Beautiful Production of James A. Herne's

"SAG HARBOR"

As Produced at the Theatre Republic, New York.

MARTHA REESE,

MISS CHRYSTAL HERNE

"A Symphony of the Sea Shore."

Prices - - 35c, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

Seats on sale at Music Hall Box Office, Monday morning, Oct. 21st.

Friday Evening, Oct. 25th.

NEIL BURGESS

—HIMSELF—

As Abigail Prue,

IN AN ELABORATE PRODUCTION OF THE

NEW

COUNTY FAIR

With its Wealth of Scenery and Mechanical and Electric Effects.

The Most brilliant and Festive Horse Race, the Greatest Triumph in Stage Realism.

3 Thoroughbred Race Horses, Mounted by Professional Jockeys, Running at Terrific Speed in Full View of the Audience.

Prices - - 35c, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

Seats on sale at Music Hall Box Office, Wednesday morning, Oct. 23d.

DUMONT WINS PRIZE.

Successfully Sails Around the Eiffel Tower.

AIRSHIP WORKS PERFECTLY

Aeronaut Makes Voyage In 30m. 40 4-7s.—M. Deutsch Says That Was Near Enough to Thirty Minute Limit.

Paris, Oct. 19.—Santos-Dumont has won the prize of 100,000 francs offered by M. Deutsch for any airship that would make the trip from St. Cloud to and around the Eiffel tower and back in thirty minutes.

There is a question as to whether the balloonist finished on time, the committee having charge of the trial claiming that he took 30 minutes 40 4-7 seconds to complete the trip.

M. Deutsch, however, is satisfied that Santos-Dumont won the prize within the limit and will pay him the money.

The aeronaut ascended from St. Cloud at 2:30 o'clock, rising swiftly from the park of the Aero club. A great throng had assembled in the enclosure and on the streets adjacent, and the daring balloonist was cheered as he shot skyward.

M. SANTOS-DUMONT.

Santos-Dumont set a course direct for the Eiffel tower, sailing high above the roofs of Paris houses, on many of which crowds had assembled to witness the test.

Airship Worked Perfectly.

The airship worked perfectly, obeying every move of the helm and drawing round and round of applause from those assembled on the street.

Five minutes after starting Santos-Dumont had reached the tower and began to encircle it.

The airship moved like a great bird as it went about the circular course, now gracefully dipping, then swirling in perfect motion and finally making the perfect circle.

As Santos-Dumont completed the circuit and set his helm for the return to the Aero park, there was wild cheering and a mass of humanity was bunched about the park, while the enclosure was crowded with notables.

Setting his course straight for the park, the aeronaut sped along at great speed, the airship plowing downward gradually.

On it went, then swooped down like a gull and landed safely.

Santos-Dumont was overwhelmed with congratulations.

Died in a Burning House.

New York, Oct. 19.—The wife of Henry Crawford died at her home on the west side of Jersey City Height, from pneumonia. Just as she expired the hallway began to fill with smoke, and it was discovered that the house was on fire. In a room adjoining that in which Mrs. Crawford died her son Henry lay sick with pneumonia. While a member of the family hastened to send an alarm Mr. Crawford and relatives carried the body of the dead woman from the burning building, while others wrapped the sick son in blankets and removed him to the house of a neighbor. It is feared the excitement and his removal may have had effect upon the son. The frenzied extinguished the flames before much damage had been done.

Valley Forge Monument Unveiled.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—The first monument erected at Valley Forge in memory of the Revolutionary soldiers who died there during the winter of 1777-78 has been unveiled and dedicated by the Daughters of the Revolution. The principal speakers were Governor Stone, Senator Pease, Peter Boyd of Philadelphia and Miss Adeline Wheelock Stirling, president general of the Daughters of the Revolution.

Battle With Burglars.

Mendoza, Ill., Oct. 19.—Burglars raid ed this city, entering several houses and securing valuable plunder. Several citizens had a fight with the burglars, and in the melee Special Police man J. H. Farrow was shot and instantly killed, and Charles Kelan, another citizen, was severely injured. The burglars escaped. Citizens are searching the country in all directions for two suspects.

Surrenders to Save Family.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 19.—In order that his destitute wife and children might be provided for Joseph Pabst, an escaped convict, for whose capture a reward of $50 was offered, caused a friend to deliver him to the authorities and collect the reward for Pabst's family. Pabst was returned to the penitentiary today.

Want to Be Brigadier Generals.

Washington, Oct. 19.—There are no less than sixty candidates for appointment as brigadier general to the army. There will be two vacancies in that grade next month when General Robert H. Ball and General H. E. Morris go on the retired list.

HALL CAINE IN POLITICS.

Candidate For Parliament Before a Manx Constituency.

London, Oct. 19.—Hall Caine has consented to become a candidate for the Manx Isle of Man parliament in behalf of the town of Ramsey. His opponent is a local lawyer. Mr. Caine's address has created consternation even among his own supporters, for he advocates sweeping changes that might well be planks in a national platform of some great reform party. First of all, Mr. Caine wants to nationalize the steamship service connecting the Isle of Man with England, running it without profit. Then he applies himself to the Manx steam and street railroads and would furnish the same radical system to them. Land must be treated in a somewhat similar manner, the Manx parliament controlling the drainage, cultivation and tree planting. The banks, of course, are included in this nationalization scheme, by which Mr. Caine believes that such financial scandals as occurred in the Isle of Man last year would be avoided.

Mr. Caine justifies these apparently unprofitable national undertakings by pointing out that the primary factor in Manx prosperity is the island's popularity as a holiday resort, and that it must prosper or decline as it meets the needs of the visitors.

With a parting reference to the necessity for a reform of the system of representation and ridding the legal system of its anachronistic superstitions, the author commits himself and his programme into the hands of the intelligent citizens of Ramsey.

NO NEWS OF CAPTIVES.

Heavy Rains Handicap Search For Miss Stone.

Constantinople, Oct. 19.—Neither W. W. Peet, treasurer of the American Bible House, nor Spencer Eddy, secretary of the United States legation, has received any news up to noon from missionaries who are searching for the brigands who kidnapped Miss Ellen M. Stone and her companion, Mme. Tsila.

Messrs. Peet and Eddy have had a long conference as to the advisability of re-enforcing the searchers, but decided that the present arrangements sufficed.

Consul General Dickinson remains at Sofia, Bulgaria, and will operate from there until the liberation of Miss Stone is accomplished.

"Shortly before Mr. McKinley went on his western trip he told me that he intended to sound the people as to their views and wishes in regard to reciprocity. He began at once a systematic and patient inquiry, that did not terminate until shortly prior to his great speech at Buffalo."

"But he had fully satisfied himself that the people—that the great agricultural and manufacturing interests of the country—needed reciprocity to open wider the markets of the world for American goods. Mr. McKinley had long believed in it himself. He was one of the first to recognize the menace of Europe. He saw that the countries of Europe would not continue to afford our goods on terms more favorable than those we offered to their products and would turn against us and close their markets to us."

"He saw that the great agrarian movements in Germany, Russia and Austria-Hungary were fiercely hostile to the United States and that a disastrous blow could and would be struck at America if we did not avert it by a spirit of concession, of fair give and take. This is the spirit of reciprocity. We could not take all the time and give nothing."

"These observations led Mr. McKinley to recommend the ratification of the reciprocity treaties in his last message to congress and to urge the same course in his inaugural address in March of this year.

ROYAL Party at Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 19.—The royal party has arrived here, the last point in the royal tour of Canada. The reception was enthusiastic and thousands lined every possible point in the vicinity of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of traversing the paths which are the only means of access to the hiding places of the bandits in the rugged mountain range, flanked on the west by the Rileys and on the east by the Rhodope mountains, the summits of which are already capped with snow, extending some distance down.

The difficult nature of the country handicaps the searchers, and heavy rains have increased the difficulty of travers

HAMPTON RIVER BRIDGE.

The bridge which will span the mouth of Hampton river as the connecting link of the Exeter, Hampton & Amesbury and the Seabrook & Hampton Beach street railways is now well advanced, and Mr. Madden, of Cowles & Childs of Boston, the contracting builders, states that, with no untoward circumstances, it will be completed by Dec. 1st.

Two additional pile drivers have been put in operation this week, and upwards of sixty men and many teams are busied. A great difficulty has been the securing of a suitable water supply. At first wells driven at the river mouth gave an adequate supply, but of late the quality has been so poor that the water was almost useless, causing the boilers of the driving engines to foam badly. A water boat with a capacity of 6000 gallons was recently built, and in it excellent water is brought from an up-river spring. As a result, the engines are doing excellent work.

That the building of the bridge, which will be 4743 feet long, is a difficult undertaking may be inferred from the fact that 4000 large oaks are required for piling, and 1,700,000 feet of hard pine for planking. Sixty tons of iron, which include 15 tons of wire splices, will be embodied in the bridge. A careful calculation shows that to haul the material would require 425 freight cars, loaded to the full capacity of 15 tons each. Much of the material is, of course, delivered otherwise than by rail, but freight bills will still approximate $10,000.

Of the 4000 piles, about 1400 have still to be driven. The bridge is planked for 2600 feet of its length—from the Hampton approach to the river and for a considerable distance beyond. For the remaining section no special difficulty must be surmounted, and more rapid progress can be made. A draw will span the main river channel.

AT MUSIC HALL TONIGHT.

Of The Runaway Match, which appears at Music Hall this evening, the Manchester Union of Saturday morning says:

If one could imagine a father and son, a widow and her school girl daughter, than marry the father to the daughter and the son to the widow, allow the quartet to meet unexpectedly after a runaway marriage at a country Inn, and the fun that would be in sight on such an occasion is what the audience at the opera house witnessed last evening. The attraction was Mark E. Swan's rather "Frenchy" farce comedy entitled A Runaway Match.

expressed by both Franklyn Fitchie, as "Ben," the elder, and by John Dean as "Franklin," the younger brothers, as the awakening comes to Ben and to Martha Reese (the woman in the case) that an awful problem has come into their lives, each is caught squarely between the paths of love and self-sacrifice.

Each then attempts the nobler part, only to be torn by the whirlwind of personal suffering and passionate despair. At one supreme moment the natural man in each of the brothers "boils" over, and they are simultaneously impelled to destroy one another. But here enters the good angel, Old Capt. Dan Marble (Mr. Woodway), whose blundering good nature precipitated all the trouble, finds the two boys in the agony of their life to life conflict, and he utters one line of advice and warning that is simply beautiful in its rugged strength and characteristic seafaring metaphor: "We're aground boys," he says. "We're aground and we'll have to wait for the tide to float us."

NEIL BURGESS HIMSELF COMING.

The announcement that Neil Burgess, America's foremost character comedian would appear himself in that production of international reputation, The County Fair, has been enthusiastically received by the local theatre goers, and his appearance in Music Hall on Friday evening, October 25, will be the scene of a big gathering.

Mr. Burgess has been before the American public for many years, and his work as the aged spinner, whether in the Widow Bedott, Vim, or his latest and greatest effort, The County Fair, has been passed upon by the best critics in the land, as a true and artistic delineation devoid of caricature.

The County Fair is undoubtedly the most successful rural drama ever written, and in the matter of farm atmosphere it stands far above the old favorite The Old Homestead. The great incidents of the piece including the wonderful horse race, the county fair, and the corn husking are all retained. Miss Emma Pollock, who has been appearing in the English music halls, has returned to this country and is under special engagement with Mr. Burgess to play the part of "Taggs." Among others in support are Sherman Bowles, as "Otis Tucker," Harry S. Robinson, as "Solon Hammerhead;" J. B. Fulton as "Joel Bartlett;" Edmund Burroughs, as "Tim," the tanner; Harry B. Norman, as "Bill Barker;" Helen Bell, as "Sally Greenaway;" and the "Transatlantic Four."

PARK THEATRE, BOSTON.
The Marriage Game.

Another play from the prolific pen of Clyde Fitch whose last production here, The Climbers, scored such an emphatic success, opened at the Park Theatre, Boston, on Monday and made a tremendous hit. It is called The Marriage Game, and in it our well-known actress, Sadie Martinot, is the stellar feature. It will be the attraction for the coming week. The Marriage Game, the boldest and the most daring of any of the Clyde Fitch plays, which was first produced three weeks ago, has created nothing short of a sensation. It has been discussed more than any play presented in this country for years and although there is a difference of opinion regarding its motive and moral, it is certainly the most intensely dramatic mixture of thrilling episodes and sparkling epigram which Mr. Clyde Fitch has yet contributed.

MILDRED HOLLAND.

Mildred Holland's tour in the New England cities the past week has been one of large and brilliant audiences, especially at Newport, R. I., where one of the largest and most fashionable gatherings ever assembled in the local play house gave Miss Holland and her romantic drama, The Power behind the Throne, a rousing reception, demanding several curtain calls at the end of the performance.

In the audience were seen many of New York's 400, including Harry Lehr and party, J. J. Van Alen and party, representatives of the Astor and Vanderbilt families, and many other well-known New Yorkers.

Miss Holland's tour this week will include the following cities: Monday, Lynn; Tuesday, Salem; Wednesday, Lawrence; Thursday, Lowell, and Friday and Saturday, Manchester—Sunday Post.

WITH THE THEATRICAL FOLK.

"A Runaway Match" this evening, "Sag Harbor," Wednesday evening, Oct. 23.

The new "County Fair," Friday evening, Oct. 25.

Gus Sun has bought for his minstrel company a new private car to replace the one recently burned at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The tour of the No. 2 "Janice Meredith" company closed on Saturday, business having proved unsatisfactory. The conflict in the heart of each of the brothers is excellently

The Bostonians will produce Maid Marian at the Chestnut street opera house, Philadelphia, Nov. 4.

The Mittenthal Brothers have purchased the melodrama entitled "Devil's Island" and expect to revive it in elaborate fashion next year.

Wright M. Lorimer is winning much praise from the press throughout the country for his impersonation of the leading role in "The Power Behind the Throne."

Anna Wilson, a colored maid employed by Cecilia Loftus, was arrested on Saturday, charged with stealing some of Miss Loftus' jewels.

"Way Down East" will begin an engagement at the Academy of Music, New York, on November 18.

Hennessy Leroy's second annual tour through the south in "Other People's Money" is resulting most satisfactorily. At Columbia, S. C., Oct. 1, Mr. Leroy appeared before Governor McSweeney and a box party at the new Columbia theatre. Mr. Leroy was the recipient the next day of a letter from the governor complimenting him on the finished performance of himself and company.

As a play, "The County Fair," which will be seen here in the near future with Neil Burgess himself as Abigail Prue, is said to be as sweet as the fragrance of fresh hay and flowers and the laughter of village maidens in midsummer.

A notable event has become a stereotyped expression is announcing theatrical engagements, but the forthcoming appearance of that talented actress, Sadie Martinot and her splendid company in Clyde Fitch's latest play, "The Marriage Game," surely justifies this expression. The performance will be seen with the same superb company and all the magnificence which has characterized its distinctive success wherever it has been presented. The engagement here will certainly constitute the most notable event of the theatrical season thus far, and will be looked forward to with eager delight by all who thoroughly appreciate a high class performance.

NAVAL NEWS AND NOTES.

Reports in the case of two gunners of the navy who recently took the competitive examinations for commissions as ensign in the navy have been received by the navy department. Gunner Francis Martin, who was examined by a board consisting of Rear Admiral John C. Watson, Capts. T. F. Jewell and Asa Walker and Comdr. C. W. Rae, was found qualified in all the branches in which he was examined, and recommended for a commission in the service. Gunner H. B. Soule, who was examined by Capt. William H. Whiting, Comdr. Alexander McCracken, Lt. Comdr. John F. Parker, with Lieut. (J. G.) J. A. Kearney as recorder, was also found well qualified and recommended by the board for commission. These two officers will receive the first commissions to enlisted men authorized by the naval appropriation act of last year, which allows the appointment, each year, of six warrant officers to the grade of ensign.

The new battleship Illinois is at length prepared for actual service in the navy, and the finishing touches which have been put on by her builders, the Newport News shipbuilding and dry dock company, leave this fine structure in "apple-pie order" for the winter cruise of the North Atlantic squadron, which will begin some time during the month of November. The Illinois is, in some respects, more fit for actual service than any ship of her class so recently out of the builders' hands, and many congratulations have been passed over this state of affairs.

It is now said to be very certain that the North Atlantic squadron will leave the New York navy yard on Nov. 20, or within a day or two thereafter. The Massachusetts will be the last of the vessels to be docked.

The man in charge of the models of warships which form a part of the naval exhibit at the Pan-American exposition is wrestling with a perplexing mystery. Each of these models bears a card stating the principal facts of interest concerning the original ship. The cruiser New York is described as having "taken part" in the battle off Santiago. One day this card disappeared from the model. It was replaced with another which vanished in the same puzzling manner, and since then these disappearances have occurred regularly every day. The man in charge of the exhibit has watched the model vigilantly to discover who removes the cards, but in vain. Navy officers have no explanation to offer. There is a general inclination to blame it on the cat.

The Bureau of Navigation has lately appointed several ex-non-commissioned officers of the marine corps as master-at-arms. Good material should be obtained from this source. There are still a number of vacancies as master-at-arms and the Bureau is daily receiving applications, but will only appoint men whose records were exemplary during service in marine corps. Non-commissioned officers of the army with good records should make good master-at-arms, providing they can acquire the sea habit.

The navy department has found nothing in the various systems of wireless telegraphy which fully meets the demands of the service. None of the existing systems are reliable and none of them will be adopted. The department is continuing its search for a satisfactory system and as soon as one is found it will be employed for naval purposes.

Rear Admiral Melville in his annual report recommends extension of policy of detailing junior officers for engineer duties; establishment of a post-graduate course in marine engineering at Annapolis; the use of two war vessels for training of firemen; use of torpedo boats for training of machinists; assurance of permanent employment of machinists; placing of warrant machinists on same foot as other warrant officers; allowance of special rate of pay for petty officers who qualify as water tenders of torpedo boats. The text of the report will be printed next week.

Preliminary orders have been issued directing that the Olympia be put into commission at the Boston navy yard. This vessel will probably be assigned to the North Atlantic station. The Olympia has been at the Boston navy yard since her return with Admiral Dewey in 1899, and has been thoroughly overhauled. Some $50,000 has been expended on her, and she is now practically ready for active service.

In regard to the report that one of the forward 13-inch guns of the battleship Alabama had been disabled in the recent gun test off the Virginia capes. Rear Admiral O'Neil, chief of the naval bureau of ordnance, says that the gun will not have to be taken from the ship and that at present the bureau does not contemplate making any repairs on the gun at all, as its usefulness has not been impaired.

Admiral O'Neil states that a shell exploded within the bore of the gun and scarred it somewhat, but did no serious injury.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets.

Caply Cathartic, cure constipation forever 10c, 25c. If C.C.C. fail, consult your doctor.

MISTAKES TO AVOID.

An English paper gives what it terms "thirteen mistakes of life."

It is a great mistake to set up one's standard of right and wrong and judge people accordingly.

To measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied.

Not to yield in immaterial matters.

Not to alleviate all that needs alleviation as far as lies in our power.

Not to make allowances for the infirmities of others.

To consider everything impossible that we cannot perform.

To believe only what our finite mind can grasp.

To expect to be able to understand everything.

STATE NOTES

John Burns of Whitefield has in his possession the captain's commission given to his great grandfather, Major John Burns in 1793.

It is now said to be very certain that the North Atlantic squadron will leave the New York navy yard on Nov. 20, or within a day or two thereafter.

The Massachusetts will be the last of the vessels to be docked.

The man in charge of the models of warships which form a part of the naval exhibit at the Pan-American exposition is wrestling with a perplexing mystery. Each of these models bears a card stating the principal facts of interest concerning the original ship. The cruiser New York is described as having "taken part" in the battle off Santiago. One day this card disappeared from the model.

It was replaced with another which vanished in the same puzzling manner, and since then these disappearances have occurred regularly every day. The man in charge of the exhibit has watched the model vigilantly to discover who removes the cards, but in vain. Navy officers have no explanation to offer. There is a general inclination to blame it on the cat.

The Bureau of Navigation has lately appointed several ex-non-commissioned officers of the marine corps as master-at-arms.

Good material should be obtained from this source.

There are still a number of vacancies as master-at-arms and the Bureau is daily receiving applications, but will only appoint men whose records were exemplary during service in marine corps.

SPORTING BRIEFS.

Yale's football team is out of debt and has $75,000 to credit.

Yale's rush line weighs 1305 pounds and averages 198 1/2 pounds.

Harvard plays only one game a week for the remainder of the season.

Sir Thomas Lipton will be unable to visit Boston as he sails for Europe next Wednesday.

TRIAL OF RUSSIAN BATTLESHIP.

Today, off the Isles of Shoals, occurs the trial trip of the fine new battleship Retyljan, which the Cramps have just built for the Russian navy.

The Piscesaqua of this port will act as one of the slate boats, and quite a party will go out on her to view the trial trip.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS.

Today, off the Isles of Shoals, occurs the trial trip of the fine new battleship Retyljan, which the Cramps have just built for the Russian navy.

The Piscesaqua of this port will act as one of the slate boats, and quite a party will go out on her to view the trial trip.

THE REVIEWER.

The man who returned $6,150 to the national treasury conscience fund appears to have a robust silent monitor.

—Pittsburg Times.

It seems that public hangings are still permitted in Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania should be too civilized for that.

—Buffalo Express.

One of the most remarkable things about the baseball season is that the umpires are all alive and in a reasonable state of health.

—Detroit Free Press.

The life of a Philadelphia man was saved by a $30,000 roll of bills in his pocket, from which a bullet deflected.

Health is not without its advantages.

—Baltimore American.

If the world concludes to put all its anarchists together on an island, it might not be a bad plan to send along some college students as insist on having the privilege of hazing.

—Chicago Tribune.

BARNYARD REPORTER.

First Hen—I don't think much of that new hen. She seems so artificial in her ways.

Second Hen—No wonder. She was raised in an incubator.

—Boston Herald.

Uncle Eph'm.

"Dey's mo' dan one kind of wisdom," said Uncle Eph'm. "A wold to wold is s'cien, but yo' don' git no chance to say a wold to de wise guy.

He knows it all."

—Chicago Record-Herald.

Matchless.

She is a matchless beauty.

And she can't forget.

A match to make her tried for years.

But all in vain, so it appears.

That she is matchless yet.

—Leslie's Weekly.

Deep Consideration.

"So you won't chop the wood?"

"I'm afraid," replied Meandering Mike. "dat de exercise would start an appetite dat 'd trespass on your hospitality."

—Washington Star.</

Published every evening, Sundays and holidays excepted.
Terms $1.00 a year, when paid in advance, 85 cents a month, 2 cents per copy, delivered in any part of the city or sent by mail.
Advertising rates reasonable and made known upon application.
Communications should be addressed
HERALD PUBLISHING CO.,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
Telephone 21-3.

F. W. HARTFORD,
B. M. TILTON,
Editors and Proprietors.

[Entered at the Portsmouth, N. H., Post Office as second class mail matter.]

For Portsmouth
and Portsmouth's Interests

You want local news! Read the Herald. More local news than all other local dailies combined. Try it.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1901.

This country is waking up to the fact that anarchist is but another name for murderer. The country hails with joy the steps that are taken to bring the assassins to immediate justice.

In spite of all that naval officers say about each other, the people will always insist that the battle off Santiago was a splendid sea fight and a glorious victory. It was a sudden test, and none of the enemy got away.

It is encouraging to see that the surgeon-general of the army is able to report a decrease of drunkenness among the soldiers, but it is to be noted that the decrease occurred chiefly before the abolition of the canteen began to get to its work.

The Filipino insurrection dies hard and viciously in Samar, but the savage attack on another detachment of ninth regiment infantry tells quite a different story than that which was told in the Balingian massacre. Although the bolos outnumbered the Americans nearly twelve to one at the start, they were mowed down in ranks. One or two more such experiences will cause them to regret, if they do not already, their temerity in attempting to revive the insurrection, as well as the success of the treachery with which they took the field.

Gov. Shaw predicts that Iowa will give a large majority for the republican ticket this year. This looks like a safe forecast. Iowa has occasionally gone against the republicans, but it has not done so in recent years, and it is not likely to do so now. Nobody, of course, looks for any such vote in Iowa this year as it rolled up for President McKinley twelve months ago. It will be big enough, however, to show that the Hawkeye state is true to its traditions. The democrats will get no aid and comfort from Iowa's tally in the voting of 1901.

Lord Roberts' assertion that the British war office and the British commanders in the field are doing all that they possibly can to bring the war to an early end will hardly be consoling to the people of England. They see that the war is raging with as much virulence as it did a year ago, and that recruiting for the army in South Africa is still actively urged. Gen. Kitchener is probably the best officer in the British service next to Roberts himself, but he is unable to make any effective headway against the Boers. The sort of a war which the Boers are carrying on is the most demoralizing in which a European army can participate, and as summer has just begun in their locality at least five or six months of guerrilla fighting is ahead. The present war has cost England much more than any other conflict in which she has been engaged since Napoleon's day, and nobody is predicting a time at which the end will be reached.

Don Carlos, it is said, is deterred from making a demonstration in Spain at the present time by the belief that little Alfonso, who will go to the throne next year, when he is 16 years old, will die before he is 21, and that the claimant will then be called in by the Cortes. The present Don Carlos is said by some of his friends, on the other hand, to be a coward, and that this is the cause of his backwardness in attempting to assert his claims. The world looked for a rebellion in Spain at the close of the American war in 1898. There was some ill-feeling against the heads of their state among the Spanish populace at that time on account of the greater to their country, which they attributed to the rashness or the imbecility of their government. At the present time, when the Spaniards have grown somewhat accustomed to the loss of their territory, the antagonism to little Alfonso and his mother, the regent, has largely subsided. As an enemy of the ruling Spanish house, Don Carlos is not very formidable.

The Southern papers which are abusing Presidt. Roosevelt for entertaining Mr. Booker T. Washington, president of the Tuskegee institute, at his table, are injuring the race cause which they represent far more than they are the president. This is not the first time that a colored man has been entertained in some form at the White House. Mr. Cleveland was broad enough, as all who knew him would have known he would be, to meet Frederick Douglass and the Ministers to Hayti and Liberia on terms which contained no reminder of their color. The president's table, apart from state functions, is quite his own, and he is not subject to criticism for his invitation to it so long as the persons invited are honorable men. probably it is perfectly true that neither Mr. Washington nor any other colored man would ordinarily be likely to receive an invitation to the average business man's table, even in the North, and the Southern papers which are criticizing the president are correct enough in pronouncing the procedure unusual. But this fact makes the president's actions appear all the more creditable to him. The example is one worthy to be followed.

CABINET RUMORS.

Washington Gossip Connects ex-Senator Chandler's Name With Naval Portfolio.

Although no resignations of members of the cabinet are in immediate prospect, there is gossip continually about new faces that are likely to appear about the president's council table before his administration is ended. There has been so much unfounded talk regarding the withdrawal of Secretary Long that renewal of it would hardly seem warranted. Nevertheless, it is known that Secretary Long had President McKinley lived, intended to retire from the cabinet at an early day. He promised President Roosevelt that he would remain with some reluctance, because of his poor health and inclination to return to practice of law. However, the probability of his retirement, as soon as he can gracefully do so, is coupled with another interesting rumor of the availability of ex-Senator Chandler of New Hampshire for that portfolio. Mr. Chandler is finely equipped for the office. He was formerly secretary of the navy, and during his long and eminent career in the senate served on the committee on naval affairs.

The prolonged ill-health of Secretary Root leads some to think that he may not return to the war portfolio for any length of time. In the popular mind he has been regarded as the probable secretary of state should Secretary Bay leave the cabinet. However, it is regarded as far more likely that Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, will eventually be induced to accept that high honor. He would undoubtedly be very reluctant to leave the senate. Notwithstanding this he is the most intimate political friend the president has, and vice versa. His training in the public service fits him conspicuously for the handling of foreign questions with which President Roosevelt has to deal. A successful administration would probably mean that Mr. Lodge could hold this portfolio for six or seven years, which would offer a man of his ambition even more flattering opportunities for a career than the senate. Then, unless there should be a radical change in the domination of politics in the Old Bay state, Mr. Lodge could probably secure a re-election to the senate after his term as secretary had ceased. — Washington Post.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

Reynard the Fox.

Illustrated by twenty-four full-page and over one hundred vignette drawings by J. J. Morin, author and illustrator of the "Animals of Aesop."

This book belongs to the rare class which is equally delightful to children and to their elders. In this regard it may be compared to Gulliver's Travels, Don Quixote and Pilgrim's Progress. For wit and shrewd satire, and for pure drollery both in situations and description, it is unsurpassed. The animals are not men dressed up in the skin of beasts, but are throughout true to their characters, and are not only strongly realized but consistently drawn, albeit in so simple and captivating a way that the subtle art of the narrator is quite hidden, and one is aware only of reading an absorbingly interesting and witty tale.

The brief couplets are the best form of versification which could be conceived for engaging and holding the attention of children.

When to the charm of the poem is added the exceptional skill of the illustrator, whose genius in caricature and in animal drawing was demonstrated in his edition of Aesop, one can hardly look further in seeking for an ideal gift-book for the nursery table or the library. Small quarto, cloth, handsome cover design, $1.50. Dana Estes & Company, Boston.

"The Rubaiyat of Mirza-Mem'n."

This is without doubt the most artistic and beautiful book of the year, both as to contents and binding, and is a most appropriate gift, especially to those who appreciate the charm of Omar Khayyam's verse. "The Rubaiyat of Mirza-Mem'n" affords a delightful contrast between eleventh and twentieth century philosophy and shows that the ages have disclosed little about the divine mysteries. An appreciative reader says of it:

"The text is masterful in conception and translation. It is philosophically sweetly sung that study is a delight; sentiment so surely shaped that heartbeats mark the cadence. It is sublime in its motif, for he who comes to look upon the flower bright, to listen truly to the hymn of tree and wave, to feel the awe of majestic mountain and peaceful plain, stands not far from God."

Published by Henry Olendorf Shepard, Chicago. For sale by all booksellers. Price, $1.50.

FOR A CHILD

who is "not doing well"—the condition occurs now and then with all children.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is a food that begins to build you up at once—of course, it don't show at once.

"Not doing well" means that the child is not getting the good of his food. Not today, or this week; it may have been going on for a month; before it begins to show in the child's condition.

You want him to get back to turning his usual food into strength.

You want the food that begins to build, up at once.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

A RUNAWAY MATCH.

What the Manchester Mirror Says of Tonight's Attraction.

Of the attraction for tonight at Music hall, A Runaway Match, the Manchester Mirror of Saturday evening says:

"A Runaway Match" is the funniest farce that Manchester has seen for many a moon. It is doubtful, indeed, if a more continuous laughter has ever been heard in the Manchester opera house than Mr. Swan's piece evoked last night. The author has succeeded in writing an American "French farce," one of those family complication stories that just hint at something wicked. But "A Runaway Match" is clean all the time, and bright and witty besides. Mark Hanley has two or three companies playing it in different sections and it is safe to say that if Manchester had known something more about it in advance the theatre would have been crowded. As it was, although the price schedule was the ordinary one, only a small audience was present. Most of them spent today in telling their friends what they missed, and in gloating over their own good fortune. The company was first class, and without a single stick. Even the one subordinate part, that of a Pullman car porter, was played capitally.

Two of the three acts take place in the combination sitting-room-dining room of a cross-roads hotel. An annoying railroad accident has sent a number of guests to the house, which is conducted by a Puritanical spinster, and one man-servant, a boy of Hi Holler type. Among the unexpected guests is Leonard Claxton, a young attorney, and Mrs. Eleanor Matche, a young widow. He is 23; she acknowledges 23. They are to be married on the following day, but Miss Pennywise catches them in an embrace and to avert her fury Claxton says that they are man and wife, and so registers. The railroad accident turns out to be quite serious, and a room is set apart for them. Mrs. Matche, intending to show Leonard a letter in which their growing fondness is criticised by a friend, hands him, instead, a letter beginning "Dear Mamma." Then she acknowledges that it is from her daughter, who has "seen but four birthdays," and who is away at school.

The boy who loves athletics will be fascinated by this story. "Our Jim" is a devotee of base ball, and the hero of not a few hard-fought games. One seldom reads a more realistic and thrilling description of a base ball game than that in Chapter XVI., when "Jim" came in on the heels of the runner from first, and won for his club the championship from the Oak-dales.

The career of Jim Winters is traced from boyhood, through college days, election to the legislature, and marriage, and the interest never flags from the first page to the last. The hero of the book embodies in his character all the qualities that go to make up the ideal American citizen, and the recital of his experiences will hold the closest attention of any reader who enjoys a clean, well-written, exciting boys' story. Cloth, 12mo, $1.25. Dana Estes & Company, Boston, Mass.

MISS SADIE MARTINOT'S GOWNS.

In Act I. of "The Marriage Game," which is located at Aix-les-Bains in the height of the season of that fashionable resort, the costume worn by Miss Martinot is of heavy old Irish point lace over pale green chiffon, with hat and parasol of same lace material, with pink roses and pale green gloves. The gown is made in princess style.

In Act II. at Montrose Castle in England Miss Martinot wears two costumes. At the rise of the curtain she appears in an elaborate tea gown of Louis XV. design, made of white and gold net, which is decorated with hand-painted red roses and green leaves over an extraordinary shade of coral pan satin, veiled in pink chiffon, very striking and handsome. Later on in the act she appears in a superb ball gown of yellow and silver lace, embroidered in roses of panne velvet and rhinestones. With this sumptuous costume is worn an evening cloak of pale blue cloth lined with pompadour silk and edged with real sable tails.

The last act costume is a morning dress of lavender crepe de chine, which is embroidered with ercu lace orchids. The effect is very beautiful, and while the design is simple, its grace and delicacy are enhanced thereby.

With the costume is worn a lace hat of the latest Louis XV. pattern, and it is completely hidden by violeta hung on falling stems. Miss Martinot's costumes have been entirely designed by herself, and she devoted almost as much time to their production as she devoted to the development of her play. Her well-known and justly famous reputation for costuming has enabled her to produce some of the most beautiful creations ever seen on the stage.

For every costume she has hose and shoes to match material worn, and where necessary gloves to match also. — Boston Sunday Post.

H. W. NICKERSON,
LICENSED EMBALMER
AND FUNERAL DIRECTOR.

5 Daniel St. Portsmouth.

Calls by night at residence, 9 Miles avenue, or 11 Gates street, will receive prompt attention.

Telephone at office and residence.

The Herald has all the latest news roll a comedian as Fred Anderton will also live to be properly featured. A return engagement is in order. In every respect the company was thoroughly competent.

With the larger cities offering so many inducements to the much-heralded attractions of the day Manchester cannot frequently see the best at moderate prices, and when the best is offered, as it was last night, it is extremely unfortunate that the response is not more generous. But the fault this time was largely on the side of the Hanley management, whose advance notices really went but a short way in telling us what to expect. More thorough work in advance might have worked wonders. Portsmouth is booked to see "A Runaway Match" on Monday evening word for Mr. Hartford's Music Hall next, and if Portsmouth will take our will be packed to its capacity. It may be said in conclusion that unless the profession is greatly overcrowded so talented a girl as Alice Williams is sure to be heard from later on, and so

OAK CASTLE, NO. 4, K. G. R.
Meets at Hall, Peirce Block, High St., Second and Fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Officers—Willis B. Mathes, P. C.; Robert M. Herrick, N. C.; Allison L. Phinney, V. C.; Charles C. Charles, H. P.; Fred Heiser, V. H.; Fred Gardner, K. of E.; Charles W. Hanscom, C. of E.; Samuel R. Gardner, M. of R.; George P. Knight, S. H.

PORTSMOUTH LODGE, NO. 97, B. P. O. E.

Meets at Hall, Daniel St., Second and Fourth Tuesdays of each month, except Second Tuesday of June, July and August, and Fourth Tuesday of September.

Officers—A. N. Wells, E. R.; H. B. Dow, Treas.; William P. Gray, Sec.

PORTSMOUTH COUNCIL, NO. 8, O. U. A.

Meets at Hall, Franklin Block, First and Third Thursday of each Month.

Officers—William P. Gardner, C.; Charles B. Allen, V. C. Frank Pike, R. S.; Frank S. Langley, F. S.; J. W. Marden, T.; Charles W. Hanscom, Ind.; Malcomb D. Stuart, Ex.; William C. Berry, I. P.; William Emery, O. P.; Harry Hersum, Trustee.

Professional Cards.

W. O. JUNKINS, M. D.

Residence, 98 State St.

Office, 26 Congress St.

Portsmouth, N. H.

OFFICE HOURS: 1 A.M. to 8 P.M.

C. D. HINMAN, D. D. S.

DENTAL ROOMS, 10 MARKET SQUARE

Portsmouth, N. H.

F. S. TOWLE, M. D.

84 State Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

OFFICE HOURS: Until 8 A.M. to 2 P.M. and 7 P.M. to 8 P.M.

STANDARD BRAND.

Newark cement

100 Barrels of the above Cement Just Landed.

THIS COMPANY'S CEMENT

Has been on the market for the past fifty years. It has been used on the Principal Government and Other

Public Works,

and has received the commendation of Engineers, Architects and Consumers generally.

Persons wanting cement should not be deceived.

Obtain the best.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN H. BROUGHTON

We Are Now Receiving Two

Cargos of

PORTLAND CEMENT

AND THE

HOFFMAN CEMENT

The only lot of fresh cement in the city;

We have the largest stock and constant shipments ensure the newest cements.

A. & R. W. WALKER

137 MARKET ST.

YOU CERTAINLY WANT THE PUREST

EASTERN DIVISION.

Winter Arrangement.

(In Effect October 14, 1891.)

Leave Portsmouth

Boston—8:50, 7:20, 8:15, 10:53, a. m., 2:21, 5:00, 7:28, p. m. Sunday, 8:50, 8:00, a. m., 2:21, 5:00, p. m.

Portland—9:55, 10:45, a. m., 2:45, 5:22, 8:50, 9:20, p. m. Sunday, 8:30, 10:45, a. m., 8:55, p. m.

Wells Beach—9:55, a. m., 2:45, 5:22, 8:50, p. m. Sunday, 8:30, a. m.

Old Orchard and Portland—9:55, a. m., 2:45, 5:22, p. m. Sunday, 8:30, a. m.

North Conway—9:55, a. m., 2:45, p. m.

Somersworth—9:55, 10:45, a. m., 2:40, 2:45, 5:22, 5:30, p. m.

Rochester—9:45, 9:55, a. m., 2:40, 2:45, 5:22, 5:30, p. m.

Dover—9:50, 9:45, a. m., 12:15, 2:40, 5:22, 8:52, p. m. Sunday, 8:30, 10:48, a. m., 8:57, p. m.

North Hampton and Hampton—2:10, 8:15, 10:53, a. m., 5:00, p. m. Sunday, 5:00, a. m., 5:00, p. m.

Trains for Portsmouth

ve Boston—7:30, 9:00, 10:10, a. m., 12:30, 3:30, 4:45, 7:00, 7:45, p. m. Sunday, 4:30, 8:20, 9:00, a. m., 6:40, 7:00, p. m.

ve Portland—2:00, 9:00, a. m., 12:45, 6:00, p. m. Sunday, 2:00, a. m., 12:45, p. m.

ve North Conway—7:25, a. m., 1:15, p. m.

ve Rochester—7:19, 9:47, a. m., 1:50, 6:25, p. m. Sunday, 7:00, a. m., 6:40, 7:00, p. m.

ve Somersworth—6:35, 7:32, 10:00, a. m., 4:05, 6:39, p. m.

ve Dover—6:10, 10:24, a. m., 1:40, 1:30, 6:30, 9:20, p. m. Sunday, 1:30, a. m., 9:25, p. m.

ve Hampton—9:22, 11:50, a. m., 1:13, 4:59, 6:16, p. m. Sunday, 1:26, 10:06, a. m., 8:09, p. m.

ve North Hampton—9:28, 11:55, a. m., 2:19, 5:05, 6:21, p. m. Sunday, 1:30, 10:12, a. m., 8:15, p. m.

ve Greenland—9:35, a. m., 12:01, p. m., 5:11, 6:27, p. m. Sunday, 1:35, 10:18, a. m., 8:20, p. m.

SOUTHERN DIVISION

Portsmouth Branch.

rains leave the following stations Manchester, Concord and intermediate stations:

lsmouth—8:30, a. m., 12:45, 5:25, p. m.

land Village—8:39, a. m., 12:54, 5:33, p. m.

ingham Junction—9:07, a. m., 1:07, 5:58, p. m.

ing—9:22, a. m., 1:21, 6:14, p. m. mon—9:32, a. m., 1:32, 6:25, p. m.

returning leave cord—7:45, 10:25, a. m., 3:30, p. m. idester—8:32, 11:10, a. m., 4:20, p. m.

mond—9:10, 11:48, a. m., 5:02, p. m. ing—9:22, a. m., 12:00, m., 5:15, p. m.

ingham Junction—9:47, a. m., 2:17, 5:55, p. m.

land Village—10:01 a. m., 12:29, 1:08, p. m.

rains connect at Rockingham Junction for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence

Boston. Trains connect at Manchester and Concord for Plymouth, Weymouth, Lancaster, St. John's, Newport, Vt., Montreal and the t.

formation given, through tickets and baggage checked to all points he station.

D. J. FLANDERS, G. P. & T. A.

rk Harbor & Beach R. R.

ve Portsmouth—8:40, 10:50, a. m., 2:50, 5:50, p. m.

ve York Beach—6:25, 10:00, a. m., 1:30, 4:05, p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, G. P. & T. A.

RIVY FERRY LAUNCH NO. 132.

GOVERNMENT BOAT,

FOR GOVERNMENT BUSINESS.

eaves Navy Yard—8:20, 8:40, 10:00, 10:30, 11:45 a. m., 1:35, 3:00, 4:00, 5:00, 5:45, *7:45 p. m. Sundays, 10:00, 10:15 a. m., 12:15, 15 p. m. Holidays, 9:30, 10:30, 10 a. m.

eaves Portsmouth—8:30, 8:50, 10:15, 11:00 a. m., 12:15, 1:45, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:00, *10:00 p. m. Sundays, 10:07, a. m., 12:05, 12:45 p. m. Holidays, 10:00, 10 a. m., 12:00 m.

Wednesdays and Saturdays.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH ENNRY ROYAL PILL.

Original and Only genuine

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH ENNRY ROYAL PILL.

Safe, Dependable, Lactose-free

Dangerous Substitution not

Safe, Dependable, Lactose-free

Safe, Dependable

TRUSSES

Having all the latest improvements in TRUSSES, combined with the "KNOW HOW," enables us to GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. Try us! If we fail to fit you, it costs you nothing.

A full line of Shoulder Braces
Supporters
— AND — Suspensories
Always on hand.

PHILBRICK'S PHARMACY

SPRING DECORATIONS ARE IN ORDER

now, as we have the finest stock of hand-tooled wall papers, that range in price from 15 cents to $5 per roll, suitable for any room, and of exquisite colorings and artistic patterns. Only expert workmen are employed by us, and our prices for first-class work are as reasonable as our wall papers.

J. H. Gardiner
10 & 12 Daniel St. Portsmouth

Gray & Prime

DELIVER

COAL

IN BAGS

NO DUST NO NOISE
111 Market St. Telephone 2-4.

ESTABLISHED IN 1872.

C. E. BOYNTON.
BOTTLERS OF ALL KINDS OF

Summer Drinks,

Ginger Ale, Lemonade, Root Beer, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Coffee, Chocolate and Soda Water in options for hotel and family use. Fountains charged at short notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter, Refined Cider, Cream and Stork Ale.

ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED

A continuance of patronage is solicited from former customers and the public in general, and every endeavor will be made to fill all orders promptly and in a satisfactory manner.

C. E. Boynton
16 Bow Street Portsmouth

GEMETERY LOTS CARED FOR AND TURFING DONE.

WITH increased facilities the subscriber is now prepared to take charge and care of all cemetery lots in any of the cemeteries of this city as may be intrusted to his care. He will give careful attention to the turfing and grading of all lots, and to the removal of debris. In addition to work at the cemeteries he will do turfing and grading in the city at short notice.

Cemetery lots for sale, also lawn and turf.

Underwood, the residence, corner of Rich-ardson Avenue and Market Street, or by mail, to C. E. Boynton, 16 Bow Street, will receive prompt attention.

M. J. GRIFFIN.

THE HERALD.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1901.

CITY BRIEFS.

Whore repair your shoes? John Mott, 31 Congress St.

Portsmouth bridge was alive with fishermen on Sunday.

Newmarket has a new fire alarm tower thirty feet high.

While others went to the nearby beaches on the electrics.

The lighthouse steamer Lilac tied up at Jones' wharf over Sunday.

There will soon be another lunch room opened in the city at the west end.

E. P. Kimball has the foundation all in for a new house on upper Union street.

Special theatre cars will be run to York for Sag Harbor and the County Fair patrons.

WANTED.—A good, hustling, strong boy. Steady employment. Apply at the Herald office.

A movement for a soldiers' monument at York will probably be instituted in the near future.

Loss of appetite is an ailment that indicates others, which are worse. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures them all.

The fall track meeting of Phillips Exeter academy association will be held on the campus next Wednesday.

Music Lessons on Violin, Cornet, Mandolin and Banjo. R. L. Reinewald, Bandmaster U. S. Naval Band, 6 Court street.

Monday evening, Oct. 28, a reception will be given at the North church chape to James A. Dummett, state's attorney. V. M. C. A.

The annual collection for the seminaries of the diocese of New Hampshire was taken up in all the Catholic church es on Sunday.

The Painters' Union will enjoy a social session at their meeting on November 1st. A clam chowder will be served at the close.

The Advent conference will be held in this city this week, and meals will be served at the hall of the Hanover street engine house.

Word received from the wilds of Maine states that E. M. Fisher brought down the first deer for the Portsmouth contingent.

Addie F. Burkitt Council, Daughter of liberty, will hold a sale at Philbrick hall next Wednesday afternoon, with whisky in the evening.

A new division of the Order of Railroad Conductors was instituted at Boston and nearly all the conductors in this city are on the charter list.

Sunday was a delightful day to be out of doors and all who could seemed to take advantage of the fact. Some took long walks into the country.

A. E. McRee is giving his whole time to electric railroad management, and has been relieved of the management of the local electric light and gas company.

Apples are now coming into the market in quite large numbers, and the farmers who raised them this season are fortunate, as they are bringing good prices.

The first of the winter's balls at the Hampton town hall will be given Tuesday evening, with music by Dow's orchestra, an oyster supper and all usual features will be in order.

It is only necessary to state that "A Runaway Match," which is to be given at Music hall this Monday evening, is under the direction of M. W. Hanley the manager of Robert Mantell.

The United States government officials have been at Hampton arranging for the running of a telephone line along the New Hampshire seacoast for the use of the life-saving service.

James J. Hogan, the former Exeter football captain, whose work at tackle at Yale this year is winning him much renown has been appointed chief marshal of the freshmen class for the bicentennial parade.

It's a mistake to imagine that itching piles can't be cured; a mistake to suffer a day longer than you can help. Doan's Ointment brings instant relief and permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Wild geese have commenced to fly southward. On Saturday a big flock passed over the south section of the city, flying so low as to cause many an amateur sportsman to rush for his gun.

Many people went to Wallis sands on Sunday and visited the scene of the conflagration of Friday afternoon, when the commodious Kirkpatrick cottage together with contents were entirely destroyed.

The many friends of Robert Kirkpatrick in this city will regret to learn of the loss of his handsome summer cottage at Wallis Sands by fire early Saturday morning. Many local people have availed Mr. Kirkpatrick's hospitality at his spacious summer home.—Manchester Union.

Is it a burn? Use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. A cut? Use Dr. Tamm's Electric Oil. At your druggists.

Dyspepsia—bane of human existence. Burdock Blood Bitters cures it promptly, permanently. Regulates and tones the stomach.

Too late to cure a cold after consumption has fastened its deadly grip on the lungs. Take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup while yet there is time.

Newichawancie Tribe, No. 28, improved Order of Red Men, will hold their seventh annual masquerade ball at Newichawancie hall, South Berwick, next Friday evening. The music will be furnished by the Naval orchestra of Portsmouth. Ralph Reinewald, director; Chauncey B. Hoyt, prompter.—Dover Democrat.

HARBOR FRONT NEWS.

Arrived, Oct. 20—Steamer Reading Salem for Philadelphia; schooner Allie Verma, (British,) St. John for Boston with lumber.

Arrived, Oct. 21—Schooners Maggie Mulvey, South Amboy for Bangor, and William H. Archer, Boston for Bangor, with phosphate; tug H. A. Mathes, Saco; barge Berwick, Saco for Boston, with bricks; United States lighthouse steamer Lilac, cruising; schooner John Cadwallader, Boston for Bath, light.

Sailed, Oct. 19—Steamer Charles F. Meyer, Baltimore; barges Robeson, Philadelphia; Twenty One, do; tug Picatasqua, barge Exeter, for Boston.

DIED OF HEART FAILURE.

William A. Hurd of Berwick, Me., expired while consulting physician.

Somersworth, Oct. 21—William A. Hurd, aged 32 years, died suddenly of heart failure Sunday. He was taken ill at an early hour, and walked from his home in Berwick to the physician's house, a mile distance, and expired while the doctor was prescribing for him. He conducted a cigar factory in Somersworth.

He was the son of Nathaniel N. Hurd, ex-sheriff of York County, Me., and for several years was keeper of the county jail at Alfred, Me. He was prominent in political and fraternal circles.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Again in Session at the Court House in This City—New Case on Trial.

In the superior court, which came into the county court house in this city today, the verdict in the Exeter case was opened and it awarded damages in the sum of $500 for the plaintiff.

The case of Leavitt vs. Portsmouth, Kittery and York street railway company, was placed on trial before a jury. The action is one for alleged personal injuries at Seabury on Nov. 20, 1900, in alighting from a car.

POLICE COURT.

Two Simple Cases at the Monday Morning Session Before Judge Emery.

At the Monday morning session of police court Judge Emery presiding there were two simple cases. The first was that of Dennis Broderick, who pleaded guilty to being drunk on Hanover street on Saturday afternoon and was given a suspended sentence in order that he might go to New York to work. Broderick had trouble a few years ago, but since that time has been of very good behavior hence the clemency of the court.

Joe Murphy, who is alleged to have thrown a cabbage at John Driller, pleaded not guilty, and as the complainant did not show up, the case was continued until seven in the evening. Driller claims the cabbage struck him in the stomach, with the result that he was doubled up for half an hour after.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING.

EXETER, Oct. 21.—A series of district Sunday school meetings will be held in Rockingham county during the present week. Field Secretary J. N. Dummer of the New Hampshire State Sunday School association will be present at all the meetings.

On Tuesday a meeting will be held at the Methodist church, Hampton, in charge of the Rev. D. L. Chase, pastor of the Christian church at North Hampton. On Wednesday at the Freehill Baptist church, Candia village, the meeting will be in charge of John H. Foster of Candia. On Thursday at the Congregational church, Salem, the pastor, the Rev. William T. Bartley, will be in charge. On Friday the Rev. A. B. Howard of the Freehill Baptist church, South Danville, will preside over the meeting at the Congregational church, Hampstead. On Saturday Mr. Dummer will speak on Sunday school work, at a meeting of the Christian Endeavor union at the Baptist church in Northwood, and will probably hold a union Sunday school service at some point in that district on Sunday.

OBITUARY.

Timothy W. Sullivan.

Timothy W. Sullivan, aged thirty years, died at his home, No. 40 De Wolfe street, Cambridge, Mass., suddenly on Friday. Deceased was a graduate of Boston Law school and studied some time with Col. Michael Crowley of this city. He was a self-made young man and a credit to the legal profession in which he will be greatly missed. He was the oldest son of Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, formerly of this city. He was a cousin of Mrs. D. J. Carroll. He was buried on Sunday from his home with services at St. Peter's church, and had one of the largest funerals ever held in Cambridge.

Benjamin O. Ham

The death of Benjamin O. Ham oc curred at his home in this city on Sat urday, at the age of 63 years, 6 months and 11 days.

They Work While You Sleep.

While your mind and body rest Cascets, Candy Cathartic repairs your digestion, your liver, your bowels, put them in perfect order. Genuine tablets stamped C. C. Never sold in bulk. All druggists, rec.

FIGURES FOR PORTSMOUTH.

Increase of Estimates for 1903 Over Those for 1902.

In the comparative statement of estimates and appropriations, 1902-1903, navy department, the increase of estimates for 1903 over the amount appropriated for 1902 for the same purpose, are the following figures in relation to the Portsmouth navy yard:

Quay wall, to extend.....$100,000.00

Grading, to continue.....25,000.00

Latrines.....4,000.00

Tools for yards and docks.....2,000.00

Locomotive crane.....75,000.00

Floating dry dock.....500,000.00

Electric plant, extensions.....25,000.00

Telephone system, extensions.....1,500.00

Central heating plant.....22,000.00

Piers and slips.....100,000.00

Landing floats.....1,800.00

Underground conduit system.....

to continue.....20,000.00

Guardhouse at yard entrance.....

.....25,000.00

Office, drafting, and testing rooms for yards and docks.....4,000.00

Outbuildings for officers' quarters.....

.....1,500.00

Timber shed.....32,000.00

Machine shop for equipment, extension of.....13,775.00

Boiler shop for steam engineering.....100,000.00

Blacksmith shop for steam engineering.....42,000.00

Foundry for steam engineering.....90,000.00

Pattern shop for steam engineering.....56,000.00

Coppersmith shop for steam engineering.....44,000.00

Power house and stack for steam engineering.....35,000.00

Steel plant building for construction and repair.....100,000.00

Plate metal workers shop for construction and repair.....75,000.00

New floor for building No 7.....30,000.00

Breakwater and landing stage.....15,000.00

Storehouse for guns.....50,000.00

Elevator and fittings, machine shop for equipment.....6,000.00